

Beaches in Mexico: Join in the Fun

By Lumbardo

Mexico is where you would be able to find seemingly endless sunshine, fine sand and sparkling waters in its breathtaking beaches. If you are planning to go to Mexico to seek some beautiful world-class beaches, you are in luck because the country does provide a lot of options. The following are a few examples of Mexico's stunning beaches:

1. Puerto Escondido. It has various stretches of splendid sandy beach, complete with a relaxed ambiance and reasonably priced accommodation. Zicatela is one of the beaches here. It is also dubbed as the Mexican Pipeline and is known as the surfing Mecca. There are other great beaches in Puerto Escondido such as the Playa Puerto Angelito found on the western section of the area. When translated in English, Puerto Escondido stands for hidden port and this charming community really lives up to its name.
2. Isla Mujeres. You should definitely drop by this magnificent island, situated offshore from the area of Cancun. The only beach on this beautiful isle is the Playa Norte. You would be able to take some diving lessons in the beaches El Garrafon reef. You could also even snorkel or if that is not your thing, you could take part in a boat tour to the nearby Isla Contoy National Wildlife Reserve.
3. Playa los Muertos. This is Puerto Vallarta's renowned public beach. You could start your day with a leisurely stroll near the shore and then have a beach volleyball game. After you have done some swimming, you could rent your own car to discover the rest of the vast Banderas Bay, which presents around 26 miles of beaches. You could also have a look at the Grupo Mayan resorts in the area or you could stay at one of the Grupo Mayan hotels for a first rate service here.
4. Playa Icacos. This glorious beach is situated facing the La Palapa Hotel. The Playa Icacos is a popular beach, particularly for travelers and those who are in spring break. A favorite sport here that you could get into is parasailing and it is readily available at Icacos Beach.
5. Tulum Beach. Nestled beneath the Mayan ruins, the Tulum Beach is among the most striking beaches in the whole world. Tulum Village has an available car park, amazing restaurants, cozy motels and quaint souvenir shops, but its beautiful cove is not crowded and it is ideal for swimming, snorkeling and sunbathing.
6. Playa del Carmen. It boasts of fine sand beaches, crystalline turquoise waters and several accommodations, restaurants, and bars. All of these make Playa del Carmen an attractive beach destination for tourists. It is also a good place to purchase quality, handmade native crafts.

The beaches in Mexico are truly perfect for sunbathing, swimming, diving, and surfing, among others. The best time for you to have a Mexican beach holiday is from November to May. If you are looking for the best Mexican accommodation, there are several Grupo Mayan hotels found in some key attractive spots in Mexico. There really exist plenty of great beaches in Mexico, but there are also some excellent Grupo Mayan resorts that you could check out. During peak season, the beaches could become overcrowded so do not be scared to look for a secluded and serene beach haven.

Are you in search of the best beaches in the world? Look no further because you could head off to Mexico and have your fill of world-class beaches. If you want to be treated like royalty, do visit the Grupo Mayan hotels and resorts in the area for they give the best services in Mexico.
