

Business and Pleasure Combined

By Dave Southern

A small business meeting, a banquet or an international convention should never be boring. You always need to find the best place suited for the event that can provide comfort and pleasure to the participants. As much as possible, you need to find one centrally located so that they can have a city tour after the business agenda.

The Los Angeles Convention Center (LACC) is a world class convention center located at 1201 s Figueroa St. Los Angeles, California. This has become one of the city's primary business destinations. It was designed to provide a venue for both local and international business activities, regional events, promotional agenda and trade shows. It is marked by its steel and glass pavilions, huge exhibition halls, lobbies and towers.

This center has 54 meeting rooms, a theater that has a 299 seating capacity, parking that can cater up to 5,600 cars and a 770,000 square feet exhibit space. LACC features a business center, press rooms, video projection, microphone, commission rooms and meeting rooms. This is along with lecterns, closed circuit TV, slide projection, vehicular access and a telecom office.

It has both public food outlets and restaurants available. These include Galaxy cafe, Trade winds Cafe, Terrace, and Compass Cafe. It also has a number of concession stands available. There are a number of hotels near this convention center. It is advisable to check always for the best deals.
